Prospects At Evening High Improve; School Continues

Enrollment at the Torrance evening high school has taken a turn for the better so that prospects for its continued operation are being encouraged to the principal, Guy L. Mowry, who reports that classes have increased in all but two or three departments.

English classes are still far below the required number, but arrangements will be made to induce some of the citizenship class pupils to enroll in this class as it is an important requirement for those who are planning to take out naturalization papers.

Classes in Spanish and French will start next Monday evening. The teacher in this department has just returned from a trip to Europe and will be ready to meet her pupils next week.

Physical education for women needs a number of members, the gymnasium is open to all women who want to join this group on Thursday evening. It is a splendid opportunity to get much-needed exercise and relaxation through organized play.

The total enrollment at the evening high is now at about the 130 mark, with prospects for more pupils to come in during the next few weeks.

Keeping Up With Torrance High

Miss Flagg, Los Angeles superintendent of home economics visited various home economic rooms on Friday, September 23. She was shown around by the various class hostesses and gave the girls some helpful suggestions.

The senior I's had a class meeting to decide on sweaters, Thursday, September 29. A royal blue was selected as the color, but it was not decided whether they would be slip-covered or coat. Three different firms are to send samples this week for a final choice of the class.

The seniors have decided on their class play, but it is not known to be either of the ones that were previously named. It is to be "The Poor Nut," a three-act comedy. As soon as a cast is chosen, work on the play will start immediately.

Those on the new Torrance News staff are as follows: Editor-in-chief, Myron Nightingale; assistant editor, Beryl Talent; sports editor, Jim Lanz; girls' editor, Lucille Thompson; editor Torrance Herald column, Jean Wheaton; art editor, Lillian Frazier; exchange editor, Kathryn Fritz; business and advertising manager, Henry Bruhanski.

The World Friendship Club, the largest club in the school, has chosen its new members. There was a long list of applications and those who weren't able to get in this semester will be given the first chance next semester.

Senior dances, which started on September 28, are expected to be exceptionally fine this year with the co-operation of every student. The price five cents is in previous years. The dances are held each Wednesday during the noon hour.

Torrance high regrets the loss of one of its promising athletes, Harold Watson, who has moved to Fresno to live with his sister. He will finish high school there.

Marie Batsch, former T. H. S. student, was a visitor here Friday, September 23. Marie is now attending Compton J. C.

John Young, former T. H. S. boy now attending Stanford university, gave his version of what a high school and college education will mean to him at the Key Club meeting which was held Monday, September 26.

War Veterans to Meet For Picnic

More than 5,000 World War veterans, members of combat divisions who fought in France, are expected to gather at Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, on Sunday, October 16, it was announced today by President R. Dean Warner, of the Southern California Council of Combat Division Associations.

The occasion will be the first annual outdoor picnic of the combat groups and invitations have been broadcast to every veteran who served with a combat division to be present with his family.

All veterans planning to attend this event are instructed to report first at the booth of their outfit and register where they will be given a badge which will admit them to all events.

Secretary Leo A. Stromme, in charge of arrangements, wishes to stress the fact that a veteran does not need to be a member of any combat division association, but must have served with one during the World War in order to be admitted to this gathering.

Safeway Opens 7th Campaign to Aid Farmer

"Buy a Bushel of Wheat" Adopted As Slogan For New Drive

In the east, the farmer may be known as the "forgotten man," but in the West, wherever Safeway and Piggly Wiggly stores operate, the farmer is a well remembered man. For the seventh time this year Safeway and Piggly Wiggly stores are conducting a campaign to help him move his bumper crops and convert his products to cash.

During October, which has been selected as the "Buy a Bushel of Wheat" month, in the 11 western states in which there are Safeway and Piggly Wiggly stores, every effort is being made to make the people wheat-conscious and bring the producer back onto the road to prosperity.

"Our success in the earlier campaigns to move farm products quickly, and especially the last two, clingstone peaches during August, and rice during September, has spurred us on to greater efforts, in the hopes that, during October, the Southern California record in changing the farmer's dormant wheat into active dollars," stated Ralph Pringle, vice president and divisional manager of Safeway and Piggly Wiggly stores in Southern California, yesterday.

To the consumer, a bushel of wheat becomes a 49-lb. sack of flour, a unit common to the rural purchaser, but rather large for the city dweller where space is limited. In either case, the housewife can augment her flour purchases by use of other wheat products as cereals, bran and bread.

That the homemakers of the Southland may be introduced to new ways to use wheat during October, the Safeway Homemakers Bureau, under the direction of Julia Lee Wright, will conduct a special flour program over KEI and affiliated stations of the NBC, on Friday, October 7, at 10:30 a. m., Pacific standard time.

Safeway executives expect this campaign to benefit the wheat farmers as much as the campaign last spring benefited the bean growers of Southern California and other Western sections. During the last campaign, 22 carloads of dried beans were sold by Safeway Stores in the 11 Western states.

Other activities of these stores in the grower's behalf included concentrated effort on lamb, Sun-kist grapefruit, clingstone peaches and rice.

not exceed five hundred words in length. Said statement and answer are intended solely for the information of the electors and no insufficiency in the form or substance thereof shall affect in any manner the validity of the proceedings taken hereunder.

"Section 5. After the expiration of twenty-one days after the publication of the notice and statement provided for in section 3 hereof, the petition demanding the recall of the officer may be circulated among the qualified electors of said city or town for the submission of signatures. Said petition must bear a copy of the printed notice of intention and accompanying statement, and the answer if any made by the officer to said statement. If the officer has not answered then the petition must so state. Signatures must be secured and the petition filed as hereafter provided within sixty days from the first publication of the notice of intention.

"Section 6. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper. Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence and occupation, giving street and number, or other, exist, and if no street or number exist, then such designation of the place of residence as will enable the location to be readily ascertained. Each signer shall also add the date of signing opposite his or her name.

Section 7. Each separate paper shall have attached thereto an affidavit made by a qualified elector of the city or town and sworn to before an officer competent to administer oaths, stating that the affiant solicited signatures to that particular paper and saw written the signatures appearing thereon; and that according to the best information and belief of the affiant, each is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereto subscribed, and of a qualified elector of the city or town. The term "each separate paper" may include a number of sheets attached together, provided the affiant saw written all the signatures appearing on each said sheet. "Section 8. Within fifteen days from the date of filing such petition the clerk shall examine and from records of registration ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination. If by the clerk's certificate, the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be supplemented within fifteen days from the date of such certificate, by the filing of additional papers, duplicates of the original petition except as to the names signed.

"Section 9. The clerk shall within fifteen days after such supplementing papers are filed, make like examination of the supplementing petition, and if his certificate shall show that all the names of such petition, including the supplemental papers, are still insufficient, no action shall be taken thereon; but the petition shall remain on file as a public record; and the failure to secure sufficient names shall be without prejudice to the filing later of an entirely new petition to the same effect.

"Section 11. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the legislative body of the city or town without delay, whereupon that body shall forthwith cause a special election to be held within not less than thirty-five nor more than forty days after the date of the order calling such election, to determine whether the voters will recall such officer."
